Vaughan's Pledge

Since 1937, the Vaughan name has been associated with quality, professionalism and courteous, attentive service. Company founder Elwood Vaughan began his business by distributing kerosene to rural South Jersey homes with the aid of a modest used truck. Over the years, as the company grew, it added more services and products to its line to better serve its loyal and healthy customer base. Today, Vaughan provides heating and air conditioning system installations and upgrades along with its oil delivery service, and continues its tradition of reliable and friendly service. We welcome you to learn more about us in the following pages.
